GENERAL SMITH MAKES REPORT

First Session of the Philippines Assembly Closes Without a Cry for Freedom.

NO TROUBLE OVER THERE PROVIDED OUR SATRAP IS TO BE BELIEVED.

Washington, June 20.-Governor General Smith of the Philippines has cabled a report to the bureau of insular affairs regarding the closing of the first session of the Philippines assembly and declaring that no resolution of any kind was adopted "to send any petition whatever to congress or to make demand for independence." His cablegram quotes from the speech of Speaker Osmena of the assembly, which he says was conservative in tone. The governor general cables this regarding the debate: No Vote Taken.

"A resolution of Chaves, asking that a committee of the assembly be appointed to draft a declaration to congress as to the desires and wishes of the Fil people for immediate independence, a resolution of Gabaldon, to the effect that the question be left to the committee on rules, were the only subjects on the table immediately before the close of the session and no action or vote of any kind was taken on either resolution any kind was taken on either resolution, nor was any motion made for any action on either resolution by Chaves br Gabaldon or by others.

"The speaker made his closing address to the assembly, which was very conservative in tone, recognizing the work of the American government in the Philippines and the fact that the people had shown by their participation in the government that it was their desire to cooperate with it, indicating thereby to the assembly what was the proper course to pursue and that the assembly had pursued the same policy of co-operation which had already been marked out by the people in their municipal and prothe people in their municipal and pro-vincial governments.

Conflict Desired.

"Osmena stated that there were many who expected and desired that the as-sembly should immediately get into con-flict with the constituted authorities. He said that such policy was not in accord with that which had been pursued by the Filipino people, and it was evident that both chambers should work harmoniously for the commonwealth; each chamber had insisted strongly upon its own ideas as to what was really best for the islands, but that all conferences between the two houses had been neved for temperance in discussion and good will.

"He stated that the co-operation of the people with the government did not significant."

"He stated that the co-operation of the people with the government did not signify, however, that the people had abandoned their ideals or hopes for the future, much less their desire for a nationality. The people still wished that their independence should be considered immediately, but that they could do no less than recognize that they must abide the final judgment of the sovereign power in that matter. All remembered that they had taken the oath of allegiance to the United States, but that did not signify that they were not at the same time the United States, but that did not sig-nify that they were not at the same time loyal to the hopes and ideals of the fu-ture, and that the loyalty to these ideals did not signify disloyalty to the United States nor did loyalty to the United States signify disloyalty to the ideals of the future. The nationalists still believed that their people desired indepen-dence and were ready for it.

Late King of Portugal Worked the Finance Minister for Nearly a Million.

Lisbon, June 20 .- A series of stormy debates in the Portuguese parliament over financial advances to the royal family has disclosed the fact that a major portion of the funds advanced to the late King Carlos went to lift the mortgages which King Luise had placed upon the Braganza estates before his death. A New Municipal Problem.

A new problem has come up for the city officials to solve. For some time com-plaints have been sent in to the health department and elsewhere concerning the annoyance caused by swarms of thrifty bees that lately have been hovering near the factory of the Shupe-Williams Candy company. It is claimed that factory attracts the insects which are becoming somewhat of a pest. It is not known to whom the bees belong, so that the authorities are somewhat perplexed as to what to do in the case.

Mt. It will be remembered that an option on the property was taken a year ago by a Salt Lake company, and it is understood that the company holding the option has not let go, and that legal proceedings will be necessary to require it to take any such action. All construction and improvement work on the road was stopped, according to the rumor, and the Western people are doing nothing more than running trains at the present time.
